Halemanu's deep vocals and fingers that dance on the strings of ukulele & guitar have become the hallmark of his "Jazz Infused Rock n Roll with Hawaiian Soul" music. He is a wonderful live performer that not only plays music, but plays with his music. He has done projects with Oprah Winfrey, Willie Nelson, members of Aerosmith, and many others. Behind the scenes, he has also produced hundreds of musical and media projects that have appeared in Hawaii, the US, and internationally.

Halemanu has stepped out on his own as a musical artist with his album for 2018, "So The Story Goes". The album has a fun upbeat vibe with toe tapping rhythms. The song about the old Hāna road "Ala Kahiko A'ō Hāna", will get you singing the "boom boom" while moving you from side to side. Revving up the old time Rock n Roll Rockabilly beat, "Carweelah Ride", another Halemanu original, tells a great story about a guy making his way through traffic to finally find his love. The catchy "Ukulele World" will make you feel like your toes are in the sand on one of Hawai'i's beautiful beaches. This is surely an album that you can listen to over and over again!

"Halemanu is a caliber of musician that seems to channel music through them, as if in total harmony with its nature, drawing from a very organic source. He has a deep understanding of music and yet delivers with a soulful, humble heart."

Pete Sebastian - Hawai'i Radio Personality

"Exquisite and fluid playing. You are a pleasure to watch!"

Eddie and Leslie - San Francisco

"Very entertaining! Loved his style of music and great musicianship"

Jim D - Wilsonville, Oregon
